THE PRICES ON

Jackets and Suits

Are moving them rapidly. You can buy two garments for what ordinarily you would pay for one and still have a little left for seed. They must be closed this season, and the prices are making them sell.

The Few Left-Overs

From last season will be sold at any old price. There is still three months' of winter ahead of us, and in a few weeks stocks will be so broken that it will be impossible to be suited at all. So we advise your buying now at the low prices and have the use of the garments during the remaining winter months.

Wedding Celebrated

By Several of Akron's German Societies.

Mr. and Mrs. Seidel, the Guests of Honor.

Two Hundred and Fifty Guests Were Present.

Elegant Supper Served by Women of the Societies.

It was 25 years ago Thursday since the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Seidel, of 921 1/2 Bowery st., and the lodges to which they belong did not let the silver anniversary go by unnoticed.

At Market House hall, Thursday evening, the Independent Order of Red Cross, the German Warrior, Saengerbund and Beneficial societies vied with one another in doing honor to Mr. and Mrs. Seidel.

There were present at the hall an assemblage of over 250 people. Large tables were arranged about the hall, and on them an elegant supper was served by women of the societies represented.

Mr. and Mrs. Seidel were the recipients of many presents. A fine dresser was given by the Red Cross society, Robert Wolf making the presentation speech. Mr. Wolf also, on behalf of the Beneficial society presented a fine silver set. The German Warrior society, through its orator, Matthias Wein, gave a silver tea set. Silverware was also presented by the Saengerbund society, the speech being made by Valentine Hummel.

Good music was one of the features and a good social time was had by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Seidel's native land is Germany. They came to this country 15 years ago, and the greater part of that time has been spent in Akron. Mr. Seidel is employed as watchman by the B. F. Goodrich Rubber company. Mr. and Mrs. Seidel are the parents of seven children.

SAVED MONEY

By City's Building Its Own Auto-Mobile,

But Will the Vehicle be a Success?
Canton's Mayor Talks.

Mayor Robertson returned from Akron Wednesday night where he transacted some legal business during the day, and incidentally made an inspection of the automobile patrol wagon in use in that city, says the Canton News-Democrat. Respecting the wagon and a few other matters pertaining to the police department in this city the Mayor stated Thursday morning:

"The Akron auto weighs about 5,800 pounds and cost over $2,300. An expert builder who was in the city a few days ago, who looked at the wagon said he could not build it for less than $4,000 and it shows that the city saved money through doing their own work. A number of prominent ministers took a ride in the wagon yesterday (Wednesday), over the town, and the day before 15 well known ladies were given an excursion ride. The wagon has not been put to practical use yet. It seems to work all right on straight roads, but in mud and on narrow alley corners it doesn't work so well. It climbs hills of whatever height very easily. The wagon is constructed so that if anything should happen the storage batteries can be removed and horses can be hitched to it. It has rubber tires upon it and runs smoothly and rapid. It also has a cover and curtains. They think a great deal of the wagon up there."

"No, I would not advise the purchase of such a wagon at the present time. It is just in the experimental stage at this time and we would better wait until we learn fully what it will do."
